Compressible flow (gas dynamics) is the branch of fluid mechanics that deals with flows having significant changes in fluid density. Gases, mostly, display such behaviour. While all flows are compressible, flows are usually treated as being incompressible when the Mach number (the ratio of the speed of the flow to the speed of sound) is less than 0.3 (since the density change due to velocity is ...

In physics and engineering, fluid dynamics is a subdiscipline of fluid mechanics that describes the flow of fluids - liquids and gases. It has several subdisciplines, including aerodynamics (the study of air and other gases in motion) and hydrodynamics (the study of liquids in motion). Fluid dynamics has a wide range of applications, including calculating forces and moments on aircraft ...

A Study of Choked Flow in Gas Piping Systems June 26, 2018. The phenomenon of choked flow is often encountered in gas piping systems and tends to occur where there is a change in the flow path cross-sectional area. It can, therefore, occur in locations where we have orifice plates, valves, and fittings.
